Decent Work, Green Jobs and the Sustainable Economy

A green job can be with business, nonprofit organizations, government or education. Small business, self-employment and entrepreneurship is very much a part of the new green economy. Some green jobs require specific 'green' skills or education, such as a solar engineer, an environmental educator, or an organic gardener.

What is a green job / environmental job? | GoodWork.ca

The United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) defines a green job as work in agricultural, manufacturing, research and development, administrative and service activities that contributes substantially to preserving or restoring environmental quality.

We show that the vast majority of jobs associated with these six green strategies are in the same areas of employment that people already work in to- day, in every region and state of the country. For example, constructing wind farms creates jobs for sheet metal workers, machinists and truck drivers, among many others.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE GREEN ECONOMY

One way a lot of people do that is with a green job – any job that contributes to a more sustainable, renewable-energy-powered world. Green jobs are on the rise – rising 20% faster than the rest of the US economy, actually – and if helping solve climate change alone isn't enough, here are the coolest ways that green jobs benefit all of ...
